

Esquire

BABES: The pure ones line up at Real Food Daily in Santa Monica for Alice Waters-like vegan fare

BUZZ

...my prayers answered, by the opening in Santa Monica of Real Food Daily, a wonderful organic vegetarian restaurant in the Chez Panisse/Berkeley mode ...Unlike most healthy restaurants where the clientele ironically looks more sickly than Burger King's, the RFD is packed with lines of beautiful people - not á la Spago, but the kind of genuinely vibrant folks who used to cause the winter people in Chicago to envy us deeply, at least before Michael Jordan came along...What makes the Real Food Daily unique is that its food is largely excellent, as good tasting as it is good for you . . .

-William Stadiem, BUZZ

Esquire

BABES: The pure ones line up at Real Food Daily in Santa Monica for Alice Waters-like vegan fare

Vegetarian TIMES

Despite the perception of Los Angeles as a haven for good vegetarian food, the city has far less in the way of really high-quality vegetarian and vegan options than might be imagined, all the more reason for discerning Angelenos (and anyone who relishes great veg fare) to give a warm welcome to Real Food Daily...All of the ingredients at Real Food Daily are organic and of exceptionally high quality, a fact not lost on the clientele at a recent early-evening dinner. Most of the other patrons at that hour were employees of other nearby restaurants; they evidently preferred Real Food's fare to their own!

-Jonathan H. Cohen, VEGETARIAN TIMES